Orion Industries and Starbucks

ORION and Starbucks are committed to workforce diversity and inclusion.

Both companies have linkages with their state vocational rehabilitation agencies and with employers in the communities they serve.

Each presenter will discuss their company's innovative training programs, and they will conclude by taking questions from webinar participants.

Kathy Powers, Orion Industries, Auburn WA

Objective:

Learn how a social enterprise can provide job training to meet employer and client needs

Orion Industries

- Orion is a social enterprise that operates two businesses:
 - aerospace manufacturing
 - call center services
- We provide transitional employment within these businesses

Orion History

- Founded in 1957 with support of an R&D grant with State VR
- Mission was to provide skills to students who were exiting special education
- Goal was to engage in industry that would provide skills and opportunity in the labor market
- After almost 60 years, the core components of our mission / processes still exists
- Over past 13 years, we've grown business entities and staff

Orion Demographics

Gender

- Male – 61%
- Female – 39%

Disability

- 94% of people we supported had an identified disability
- 65% had 2 or more disabilities
- 34% had 3 or more disabilities
- Primary disabilities were neurological and psychiatric diagnosis
- Addiction History – about 1/3

served

Education

- 42% have HS diploma or less (8% no HS Diploma).
- 43% received special education support

Criminal History – about 1/3 served

Referral Partners

- Referrals are from:
 - Vocational Rehabilitation (65% referrals)
 - Department of Services for the Blind
 - Veterans Administration VR&E
 - Labor & Industries
 - Industry related training programs
 - Workforce Development programs
 - Other non-profits in the community

Orion Outcomes

In 2015...

- We assisted 124 individuals into jobs
- Worked with 86 employers
- Jobs included
 - Production, machine operation, assembly, labor, skilled manufacturing
 - Administrative, customer service, retail
 - Other such as food service, professional, human services etc.
- The average wage at placement was $13.41/hour and almost all jobs were with benefits

Manufacturing Training

Manufacturing

- Our business is a competitive manufacturing business and Tier One supplier to Boeing. We meet all quality and delivery expectations of any other business and are in the top 3% of Boeing suppliers worldwide.
- Within this business, we move individuals through a variety of work centers to learn about their work skills and behaviors
- Work assignment is based on skills, abilities and preferences – as well as availability of a training slots. Assignments rotate every 4 weeks (all assembly, all machine, mixture ...)
- Each participant in the program earns minimum wage while training
- We offer classes related to training including blueprint reading and shop math
- At the end of training, goals may/may not be related to manufacturing

Office Skills & Customer Service Training

Office Skills & Customer Service Training

- Training is self-directed with staff support
- Classroom is small with average class 1:6 teacher to student ratio
- Each participant can get a $10 daily stipend
- Content includes a variety of customer service, clerical and administrative curriculum (Internet Explorer, Word, Excel, QuickBooks, cash handling etc.)
- Each Friday is group customer service training
- Training is developed with employer input and follows industry trends (when to move to Word 10 etc.)
- Each participant has customized learning based on their goal

Our training programs...

Contact Center

- Contact center is a “boutique” contact center
- We subcontract with organizations for customer service, data entry, tech support and more (contracts in healthcare, Microsoft tech support, fishing licenses etc.)
- We run 24/7
- Client training assignments last the duration of the program
- Assignment is based on skills of person and contract availability – data / customer service / tech (and can change)
- Manage our reception area – provide reception training
- Each participant in the program earns minimum wage while training

Supports

Vocational Counselors

Meet with each participant at the start of their program and at least every 2 weeks while in the program

Mentors / Trainers

Our mentors / trainers are full time staff that are experienced call center agents or machinists. They are assigned to work with 1-3 participants. They provide training to participant and feedback on performance to both the client and vocational counseling staff.

Job Developers

When ready, each person works with a job developer to locate employment outside of Orion

How do we partner with employers?

- We are an employer - we gain lots of info from the operation of our own business
- We have partners for both business and mission
 - Job developers / Manufacturing & Contact Center sales staff work together
- We solicit employer input in development and updating our technical training
 - Mechanical Assembly
 - CNC Intern
- We place people in jobs within the industry and are constantly developing new relationships

Mechanical Assembly Internship Example

- Saw opportunity to offer more technical training which would offer path to higher wage jobs
- Considerations when developing training
 - Assessed labor market for this type of position
 - Assessed our ability to provide training
- Brought employers in for focus groups to provide input to technical skills and soft skills
- Training has traditionally been funded by business enterprise – but we are exploring additional funding opportunities.
- Placement wage of clients is $15/hour with benefits

Mechanical Assembly Internship Example

- To apply, participants must be enrolled in training program
- Must complete application and interview
- Application must be endorsed by both mentor on floor and internal vocational counselor
- Screening of 2-4 weeks to assess potential
- Remain in program for 4-6 months
- Specific learning objectives developed weekly with Vocational Counselor and Mentor in Mechanical Assembly
- Complete final hands on testing of competencies

Benefits/Challenges

Benefits:

- We are both employer and trainer – so our job development staff can speak to the demands of industry and with knowledge about the jobs
- Clients are present in our business which enhances our ability to provide counseling, guidance, and job development services
- We are networked with employers / have the respect from employers as a result of our industry presence

Challenges:

- Managing profitability of business while turning over workforce
- Balance of mission and business goals

Our Future

- New business line in manufacturing – current example of finish line
- Expansion of business to new geographic area
- Expansion of industries – example of contact center expansion
- Expansion of training at Orion into administration, facilities and more

What we have heard...

- “Once I started training the first partner in our inclusion program, I was not aware that they had a disability. It has made me more aware, compassionate, and improved my training skills overall.”
– Partner/Trainer, CVDC
- “Although I was skeptical of the program at first, since I have had the opportunity to train, my perception has changed and made me more aware of everyone’s unique abilities.”
– Partner/Trainer, CVDC
- “This job has changed my life by enabling me to build relationships and make friends. It has given me the opportunity to be more independent and work with partners who care.”
– Inclusion Partner, CVRP
- “I got an apartment on my own.”
– Inclusion Partner, CVRP

Shifting from CAN'T to CAN

- 1 Year
- 4 Classes
- 20 Graduates
